

What time of the year do you travel the most?

The pie chart shows information about the times of the year when respondents most travel.

Units are measured in percents. The questionnaire was submitted to 22 respondents. Overall, the warm seasons are most often chosen for travel. The majority of respondents 63 percent choose to travel in the summer. At least 4 percent of respondents choose to travel in the winter. 26 percent of students choose spring trips instead of autumn trips.
